

Greg is Service Director PAIS & ICU and Anaesthetics Director at St Vincent's Hospital

“ I’ve been at St Vincent’s since 1981, starting as a medical student. I’ve worked at other Hospitals, but keep coming back, just like a “bad penny”, because I know how good it is.

A snapshot of any day at St Vincent’s is varied, with a mixture of clinical anaesthesia, wretched paperwork, emails and tricky staff issues that allow me to avoid lots of meetings. I also liaise across all the acute care services for the hospital.

I stay because I know I can make difference and contribute towards the delivery of first class health-care to all patients irrespective of their position in life. And, it’s the people I work worth that make St Vincent’s special to me”.
